DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 19 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 19 is indefinite since "said shaft" on line 1 lacks proper antecedent basis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3, 5-9, 11-15, 17-22 and 24-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Stachler et al.

Stachler et al. discloses an impact tool comprising a shaft 15 having stops 72, 20, a slider 50 movable on the shaft for striking the stops, a handle legs 54 having a gripping section; i.e. the handle knob, extending in a direction transverse to a direction of movement of said slider and being rotatably and removably attached to the slider, wherein the handle is inherently isolated from the impact force, as broadly claimed. Since the handle is rotatably attached to the slider, it is deemed therefor to be movable relative to the slider, including during impact of the slider with the stop, as claimed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 10, 16 and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Stachler et al. in view of Baker.

Stachler et al. lacks the central section between the legs. Baker discloses an impact tool comprising a pivotal handle 20 having two legs and a central portion therebetween. In view of the teachings of Baker, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to provide the handle of Stachler et al. with a handle having the claimed configuration of a central portion between legs in order to provide a more ergonomic and easily grasped handle.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed on August 18, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. With regards to Stachler, applicant argues that although the knobs 54 can rotate around the shaft 56, and hence the slider 50, Stachler does not suggest that any movement occurs when the slider strikes the stop. It the Examiner's position that since the handle 10 of Stachler is rotatably attached to the slider 9, and is held during operation, there would inherently be movement between the handle and the slider, including during impact.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
